

China-US IP Practice Perspectives

December 7-8, 2022

This program, cohosted by the China National Intellectual Property Administration and the US Bar-CNIPA Liaison Council, will bring together experts from CNIPA along with practitioners from both China and US, to share information on patent and trademark law developments and practice perspectives in China and US. The two-day program will be focused on patent topics on December 7 and trademark topics on December 8. It will provide an opportunity for businesses, brand owners, IP lawyers, and other IP stakeholders to hear unique and concise summaries of the latest changes in IP laws and regulations from government officials as well as the perceptions from the field by experienced practitioners. The program will be hosted via Zoom platform and the Chinese-English simultaneous interpretation will be provided.

Anyone who is interested may sign in for the program by providing information required in the following form and sending the form to yaoyao@cnipa.gov.cn or cnipayao@163.com. The Zoom link will be forwarded to you after the registration.
