

Announcement of the State Intellectual Property Office

(No. 209)

Pursuant to Patent Law of the People's Republic of China and Implementing Regulations of the Patent Law of the People's Republic of China, the State Intellectual Property Office continues to entrust China General Microbiological Culture Collection Center (hereinafter referred to as CGMCC) and China Center for Typical Culture Collection as the biological materials' preservation units for patent application process, which will undertake the preservation of biological materials used for patent application process and provision of the preserved biological material samples to units and individuals which are entitled with the samples. Various preservation units' relevant information is hereby announced as follows:

I. CGMCC (accepting preservation applications since February 28, 1985)

Preservation unit name: CGMCC

Address: No. 3, Compound 1, Beichenxi Road, Chaoyang District, Beijing 100101

Bank of deposit: Haidianxi Branch of Industrial and Commercial Bank of China, Beijing

Account name: Institute of Microbiology, Chinese Academy of Sciences

Account number: 020000450908911742

Purpose: Patented Biological Materials Preservation Charge

II. China Center for Typical Culture Collection (accepting preservation applications since March 8, 1985)

Preservation unit name: China Center for Typical Culture Collection

Address: Inside Wuhan University (opposite to the First Attached Primary School of Wuhan University),
No. 299, Bayi Road, Wuchang District, Wuhan City, Hubei Province 430072

Bank of deposit: Donghu Development Zone Branch of Bank of China in Hubei Province

Account name: Wuhan University

Account number: 576857528447

Purpose: Patented Biological Materials Preservation Charge

State Intellectual Property Office

February 17, 2015